IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. T. M. Martin, who left us on August 22, 1960.
As the years pass by and longer grows the days,
We cherish your memory
It brightens our ways.
The Lord called you and
Freed you from care.
We pray that some day we'll
All meet in that city so fair.
Sadly missed by her children

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother who passed away eighteen years ago July 17th.
We do not need a special day
To bring you to our mind,
The days we do not think of you
Are hard to find.
You are not forgotten,
Nor will you ever be.
As long as life, and memory last
We will always remember you.
Although the sun for each must set
Those whom we love,
We never forget,
We pray to God without despair,
That one great day,
We will meet you there.
Loving,
Mom, Charlie and Bill

Seek Old Document and War Record

RICHMOND, Aug. 30 — A statewide "treasure hunt" for letters, diaries and other documents of Civil War vintage will start at the Virginia Civil War Commission's exhibit at the 1962 State Fair of Virginia.

Anyone having such documents are asked to bring them to the Civil War Commission's booth, in the Commonwealth of Virginia building, during the period of the State Fair, Sept. 21-29.

With the help of Richmond chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Commission will conduct a campaign to sign more Virginians to search their attics and cellars for any papers that might assist historians in their interpretation of the Civil War.

Patriotism and pride will be the principal appeals, but as an added inducement the Commission will make two photostats of each document submitted. The original and one photostat will be returned to the owner and other photostat will be turned over to the State Library along with the name of the contributor.

If the owner of the document prefers, he can keep the photostat only and turn original over to the State Library for safekeeping.

800 War Veterans in Appomattox Co.

NEW YORK, AUG. — Information that has never before been available, relating to war veterans in Appomattox County, has just been made public.

The Government, through the Census Bureau, has released figures on the veteran population locally and in every other part of the country, together with a breakdown showing the wars in which they served.

The release of the information is especially timely because of the drive that veterans of World War I have been making for a special monthly pension.

The overall figures show that 24.4 percent of the male population of Appomattox County, age 14 or over, were in the armed forces during wartime. The ratio applies to 1960, when the data was gathered.

No count was taken of the number of women who had wartime service.

Of the men, the number of war veterans locally comes to 800 and the number of non-veterans, age 14 or over, to 2,478.

Most of these vets, 458 of them were in World War II. Another 22 saw service in that war and also in the Korean War.

Those who were in the Korean War exclusively total 126. The number of World War I veterans is placed at 18. Some 153 additional men have veteran status for "other service."

All told, the Census Bureau reports there are nearly 23,180,000 veterans in the United States, 2,440,000 of them survivors of World War I.

The latter group are seeking additional lifetime pensions of $102 a month. It would go to those who served 90 days or more and whose income, other than retirement pay, is no more than $2,400, if they are single, and not more than $3,600, if they have dependents.

In Appomattox County, it is shown, the World War I veterans constitute 11.3 percent of the total veteran population.

This compares with 11.2 percent throughout the United States and 9.5 percent in the State of Virginia.

The American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars have remained aloof, thus far, from the campaign by the World War I group and have not given the move their endorsement.

MEGGINSON - SPRADLIN REUNION

The annual reunion of the late "Buster" Megginson and Riley Spradlin will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Megginson near Sprott Spring on Sept. 9th at 10 o'clock. All relatives and friends are requested to come and bring picnic lunch.
